Joe Mandot and Dundee Fight Twenty-round Draw

New Orleans, Feb. 14.—Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, and Johnny Dundee, of New York, fought twenty rounds to a draw here at the West Side A. C. this afternoon in the fastest and hardest prize ring encounter seen here in many years.

From the start of the first round it was plain that both boxers were out to win in the shortest possible space of time. Throughout the fight the two great lightweights kept at it, Dundee at times being in and driving Mandot back to the ropes and at other times being beaten back with heavy right upper cuts which Mandot used effectively.

The men were in the pink of condition, and although each stopped many smashing blows with his jaw neither at any time appeared on the verge of a knockout, and there were no knock-downs.

Mandot showed a much better punch than he ever has exhibited before, while the terrific pace which Dundee cut out and upheld stamps the Italian as one of the greatest in his class.

Virginia Not to Enter Georgetown Track Meet

List of Officials for South Atlantic Events Not Suited to "Dixie" Collegians.

AFTERMATH OF BIG MEET

By "BUCK" HOWARD.
Capt. J. H. Cronly, of the University of Virginia track team, is responsible for the statement that the Charlottesville Institution will not send a contingent to compete in any of the South Atlantic events to be held on Saturday evening, February 27.

When it was announced that Georgetown had sent entry blanks to Charlottesville it was the consensus of opinion that Virginia would not enter in any of the collegiate events but would at least send a small squad for the five South Atlantic championship events, which have been granted to the Blue and Gray carnival.

In giving out the reason our informant added: "Since the same officials that are in charge of the meet will officiate in the South Atlantic events, we feel that we will not get a square deal. This is our candid opinion and therefore will ignore the entry blanks."

This stand on the part of Virginia will not detract in any way from the Georgetown meet, but is simply an injustice to itself. In the three South Atlantic events last Saturday night but four points were snatched by the "Dixie" collegians, while Georgetown landed eleven. In the Georgetown meet, however, Virginia would have a chance to show in five championship events.

That George Washington's two-mile relay team which topped off a successful meet with a win over Washington and Lee for the championship of the South, has been the popular topic for discussion among track followers since Saturday evening. Kluge, Herring, Maxson, and Connor make up a team that can be styled a real whirlwind four.

George Washington challenged the leading schools of the South, including Virginia University, North Carolina, University of South Carolina and Washington and Lee to meet this fast four for the championship of the South, but the latter was the only school to take a chance. However, after the thrilling race it captured from the Lexington collegians, the majority, at least, are willing to concede the title to Coach Fleming's boys.

Georgetown's work in the South Atlantic events showed clearly that the Blue and Gray are due for a successful season. In the three events the Hilltoppers captured two and scored one point in the third. Capt. Eddie Stebbins relieved all doubt in the minds of the followers that he is the fastest man in the South Atlantic section in stepping off the 44-yard dash. The Blue and Gray fairly walked the pole at the start, showed up heels to the lead and finished the race with a brilliant sprint. He is sure to be heard from in the future at Georgetown.

Robertson added one point in the pole vault by landing third place, giving Georgetown 11 out of 15 points possible. Floor is little doubt that if Greenwood, James Mulligan's short appearance at Catholic University yesterday night to the Brooklands, who incidentally landed second place in the competition for the collegiate trophy. Sullivan and Field finished second and third respectively, in the 400 yard, while Gibson lost the 600-yard novice by inches.

Although many thrilling races brought the crowd some exciting moments, the relay race between Cornell and Virginia caused the greatest amount of informality. When the anchor man pulled up at the finish, inches alone separated them, with Souder, of Cornell, having the advantage. When the race was awarded to the Ithacans some so-called Virginia backers questioned the decision of experts and in doing so were laughable. Floor is little doubt that if Greenwood, of Virginia, had kept his stride he would have won the race, but foolishly he was a luxury and carried him past the Cornellian momentarily. With the mark a few feet farther the Virginia man was unable to advance in time to beat Souder, who was still in his stride.

It may be interesting to note that Cornell's representative relay four was a two-man team running against Virginia's one-mile, Jack Moakley, the reputable Cornell tracker, has always been afraid to send his fastest men to Convention Hall for a fast race, so that it is too small an injury in making the turns is more than possible.

Capt. Merchants of the Virginia had a small squad of players out yesterday for over an hour and from now on the Cardinals will take advantage of all good weather to round into form for this big occasion.
